With a captivating presence and a knack for igniting transformation, Jim Lawless has captivated audiences across five continents, reaching well over a million people. For two decades, his relentless focus has been on managing uncertainty, driving fast transformation, and achieving high performance.

As the Founder and CEO of Symmetry.inc, Jim leads a team dedicated to guiding global leaders in creating agile, intelligent organizations. His client roster reads like a who's who of business giants, including Apple, Microsoft, Diageo, and Paysafe

Group, alongside fast-growth startups and Olympic Teams.

Jim Lawless is not just a speaker; he's a doer. He challenges the status quo by proving that "impossible" is just a word waiting to be redefined. Whether it's becoming a televised jockey and shedding 25% of his body weight within a year or becoming the deepest freediver in British history in a mere 8 months, Jim embodies the principles he preaches.

His international acclaim stems from his infectious energy, his ability to infuse humour into profound insights, and his lasting impact on mindset and action. Attendees leave his sessions not just inspired but armed with a powerful new vocabulary and mindset that transforms their organisations from within.

Jim Lawless is more than just a speaker; he's a force of nature. With a degree in Law and a decade-long stint as a commercial solicitor in the City of London and International Legal Counsel for a global tech company, Jim brings a unique blend of expertise and practical wisdom to the stage.

Beyond his professional achievements, Jim is a devoted dad, a loyal friend, a skilled helicopter pilot, and a relentless triathlete. His dedication to excellence extends far beyond the boardroom, making him a true inspiration to all who encounter him.
